Getty Earth, Wind and Fire in 2004 Earth, Wind & Fire are one of the most respected and commercially successful bands of all time. They were hailed for their unique blend of R&B, pop and disco, and were honored Sunday by the Kennedy Center for their contribution to American culture. Earth, Wind & Fire have been an active group since 1969. Which World, Wind & Fire members are still alive today? Which original members died? Read on for a summary of the band's 2019 roster. Which Original Members Are Still Alive? The current cast of Earth, Wind & Fire includes many original members. They include frontman Philip Bailey, bassist Verdine White and drummer Ralph Johnson. All three had been mainstays of the band since 1972 and were part of the cast that was inducted into the Rock & Roll Hall of Fame in 2000. Larry Dunn was a keyboardist for Earth, Wind & Fire and a member of the Rock & Roll Hall of Fame. Dunn is still alive today, but stopped touring with the band in 1983. He had a special role on the band's 2013 album Now. Then & Forever.Fred White and was inducted into the rock & roll Hall of Fame as the band's percussionist, but retired in 1984 and is still inactive today. He is the brother of Verdine White and half-brother of the group's founder, Maurice White. Al McKay was the band's guitarist in the band's prime, but he also resigned from his position in 1980. He continues to record and release music. Andrew Woolfolk and Johnny Graham were the band's saxophonists and rhythm guitarists, respectively. They were inducted into the Rock & Roll Hall of Fame at the ceremony in 2000, but left the band in 1984. Both artists are alive today. Which original members died? The band's founder and lead singer Maurice White (pictured with Bailey) died on February 4, 2016. He was 74 years old. White was considered the creative center of Earth, Wind & Fire and was inducted into the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame as well as the Vocal Group Hall of Fame. He was also inducted into the Songwriters Hall of Fame one by one. While Maurice White was the only original Earth, Wind & Fire member to die, there are other members who have passed away over the years. Roland Bautista played rhythm guitar on the band's 1972 album Last Days and Time, but did not return until 1981's Raise! He remained with the band until 1983, when their classic single Let's Grooveda played guitar. Bautista died on February 29, 2012, at the age of 60. Wade Flemons was a member of Maurice White's original band, the Sally Peppers, and in 1969 Earth was one of the first to be asked to join Wind & Fire. He was a songwriter and vocalist on the band's first two albums, but left in 1972. Flemons died of cancer on October 13, 1993. 53.2019 Which Members Are On The Staff? Besides Bailey's core trio, and Johnson, the band's 2019 cast includes: B. David Whitworth – percussion, vocals (1996-present) Myron McKinley – keyboards, music director (2001-present) John Paris – drums, vocals (2001–present) Philip Doran Bailey – vocals, percussion (2009–present) Morris O'Connor – guitar, vocals (2008–present) Serg Dimitrijevic – rhythm guitar, vocals (2014-present) Verdine White told Cryptic Rock how she was grateful for the band's longevity and for supporting fans for so long. This is unbelievable. You never know how to do it. You can't predict them, they're unpredictable. Said, We were extremely blessed and lucky. I have to say we're lucky to have done this, we're lucky, and were blessed to have done it. The horn-oriented mix of jazz, funk, gospel and Big Band music, known by his nickname toHulk Reese, he has worked with various well-known recording artists including Emotions, Barbra Streisand, Cher and Neil Diamond. My brother, hero and best friend Maurice White passed away peacefully in his sleep last night. Said, As the world loses another great musician and legend, our family wants it to respect our privacy as we begin to study a very difficult and life-changing transition in our lives. Thank you for your prayers and good wishes. The group tweeted: Our brother Maurice White passed peacefully in his sleep this morning. It's the light, you and me shining. The most successful period of the band Two White brothers and singer Philip Baileyleft, a nine-piece band that began with the 1975 album The Way of The WorldThey came to the forefront of the charts for at least a decade. To the star on Twitter: Maurice White, Earth, Wind and founding member Died. Great music, energy, a great soul. God must need a group there. Thank you Maurice White for creating the greatest soul funk and R&B music of all time. Gratitude, Mark Ronson Queen Latifah wrote White thank you for gifting music! And singer and actress Jill Scott said: Music is a template for spirituality and greatness. Thanks. Always be great. Lenny Kravitz posted a rave tribute on Instagram: King. Genius. Leader. Teacher. Producer. Arranger. Author. He's very instrumental. Motivation. Mystical. Through his music and artistic expression, he gave me a lifetime of knowledge. Top of the list of top craftsmen. The music he left behind as The World Wind and Fire, mixed with messages of love, will live forever. Earth, Wind & Fire have sold more than 90 million albums worldwide. Many of the band's earlier hits were characterized by Bailey's brilliant falsetto voice. In a 2000 interview with the Associated Press news agency, White said he wanted Earth, Wind & Fire's music to inspire people rather than just entertain them. The whole point was to try to encourage young people to believe in themselves and follow their ideas. Said, We touched a lot of people with these songs. They played in many high-end venues, such as the Super Bowl and the White House. White told Newsweek that we live in a negative society when we're at the height of the group's success. Most people can't see beauty and love. I see our music as medicine. In other tribute, Nile Rodgers posted a YouTube video with the tweet: Back on the day we paid tribute to genius before Chic!, White called it one of the most amazing innovators of all time. #MauriceWhite we lost, beverley knight echoed. I'm sorry I know you've been sick for a long time. The music of my childhood. Seminal R&B crashers. This year's Oscar host Chris Rock tweeted a photo of the singer with the words: R.I.P great Maurice White. "You can't hide love. Quincy Jones praised the star on Twitter and wrote that your contributions to music will be kept in our hearts and souls. CeeLo Green wrote: Rest good master Maurice White. Your work has been done well and you have earned and deserved eternal peace. On the radio, DJs Nick Grimshaw, Christian O'Connell and Lauren Laverne paid tribute to the singer and O'Connell called the breakfast show Boogie Wonderland. 1972 Maurice White: Vocals, Kalimba, Drums, Percussion Verdine White: Bass, Percussion, Vocals Philip Bailey: Vocals, Conga, Percussion Roland Bautista (81-83): Guitar Larry Dunn: Keyboards, Synthesizer Johnny Graham: Guitar, Percussion Ralph Johnson: Drums, Percussion, Vocals Al McKay (74-81): Guitar, Percussion, Vocals BerylD Taylor (81): Guitar, Vocals Fred White (75-83): Drums, Percussion Andrew Woolfolk: Flute, Saxophone, Percussion Phenix Horns Rahmlee Michael Davis: Trumpet Michael Harris: Trumpet Michael Harris: Trumpet Donmya: Saxophone Louis Sat - Trombone 90's - 00's Maurice White - Vocals, Kalimba, Drums, Percussion Verdine White: Bass Philip Bailey: Vocals, Kalimba, Conga, Percussion Andrew Woolfolk (87-93): Saxophone Sonny Emory (87-99): Drums, Vocals Morris Pleasure (93-01): Keyboards, Bass Sheldon Reynolds(87-02): Guitar, Vocals Philip Bailey: Vocals, Kalimba, Conga, Percussion Verdine White: Bass, Percussion Myron McKla Philips , Jr.: Backing Vocals b.
